

Quilt Dreamers

VOLUME 80 – December 2009

President's Letter

IT IS SNOWING!

Ted and I saw snowflakes today as we were shopping for Christmas decorations. For those waiting for snow and cold weather for snow skiing, your wait is almost over. For the rest of us, more time to spend indoors and sew. Yeah!!! I'm busy making bags for Christmas gifts. Not my favorite thing to do, but my nieces love them.

I hope to see all of you at our Christmas party as we enjoy the holidays with friends and family.

The Christmas Party!

--Gail Hayes

Hi fellow Quilt Dreamers. Just a reminder that at the Christmas party we will be accepting food shelf donations. We would also like everyone to bring a toy or toys that you liked as a child. These toys will be taken by me and donated to Toys for Tots. See you at the party!

Quilt Layering Update – Joyce Fagerness

It's hard to believe that it is the end of another year. Time goes by so fast. We layered another 9 quilt tops and many quilts were finished. We are slowly getting caught up on the quilts that need to be tied. Jean sent us some fabric samples that was donated by Sandi Irish and there were a lot of kid prints in the box. It will be interesting to see what the people that took fabric make out of it. Have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Basket Blocks -- Marion Draeger

If you'd like to sew on the basket quilts in January, bring a machine. We will do design and cutting prior to that day and have things ready to assemble quilts. We will be making twin and full size quilts.
